THE SECOND AND LAST CONCEST BY THE FIRE JUBLIES SINGERS.—The extreme heat of Saturday, for a May day, and oppressiveness incident to it no doubt kept many says from this delightful concert who otherwise would have been present. But, indivinitationally all the circumstances under which these concerts were given, the attendance was good and the enjoyment of the persons present very appeared by the manner in which every piece was received. The programme of Saturday night was entirely different, with one or two exceptions, from that of Friday might, and to many minds the singing was even sweeter. Mr. Loudin's bass song was warmly received, and as an encore he sang in inmittable style "The Laziest Man all the Town," which was greeted with shouts of laughter. "Roll, Jordan, Roll," was well calculated to blend the remarks be voices, and the company made the song roll like the sounds of many waters. At the close of the concert Mr. Loudin thanked the audience for the kindly received of excellent musical taste who were present said, "Such music has seldem or never been heard in Wheeling," The company of excellent musical taste who were present heard in Wheeling." Prof. Mott Shows How People Are Taking Poison in Their Daily Food-A Pro-lific Source of Dyspepsia Scientifically Bemonstrated.

A series of highly interesting experiments with dogs has been lately made by Prof. Mott, and in the Scientific Americas of February 7 a detailed account is given. The disclosures are so unpleasant and startling, coming home, as they do, to every one, that we believe they should be given the greatest publicity. The effort Dr. Mott is making to purify our articles of kitchen use should receive the second of the second of believe they should be given the greatest publicity. The effort Dr. Mott is making to purify our articles of kitchen use should receive the support of every thinking man and woman. There has been too much indifference that his resulted in Americans earning the title of "a race of dyspeptica." Poison, year after year, is introduced into the stomach with a criminal disregard to consequences that is appalling. If every purveyor of domestic supplies will carefully consider the result of Dr. Mott's experiments, as detailed in the Scientific American, one of the greatest, if not the greatest of these evils will be corrected.

Dr. Mott says: "The introduction of alum in flour, for various purposes, has been a trick of the baker for the past 100 years. Fortunately for society, its introduction is limited now to a few unscrupulous bakers. In Eogland, France and Germany it is an offense punishable by fine and imprisonment to use alum in any connection with articles of food. It should be so in America.

The Royal Baking Powder Company, of this city, a long-established corporation, celebrated for the absolute purify of their goods, sometime ago commenced a vigorous warfare against many of their competitors who were time ago commenced a vigorous warfare against many of their competitors who were intuiging in hurtful adulteration. The contest excited great interest in scientific circles in which Prof. Angell, Dr. Mott, and other leading lights took a prominent part. The experiments of Dr. Mott are a result of this discussion, and co to prove conclusively that discussion, and go to prove conclusively the most dangerous adulteration that a c munity has to guard against is alum in bal powder. In his paper, the Doctor says; was with difficulty I found a suitable place Wheeling Library Association.—Shall the library be sold at auction and our people deprived of one? or shall it be reorganized or put in the hands of some other organization who will undertake to run it and give the old stockholders some benefits for the money heretofore contributed? are the questions that will be discussed at the library meeting to-night.

The special committee will be on hand with their report, and it is hoped that every person interested in having a public reading room and library will be on hand and use his influence for its perpetuation in such manner as will give its use on the best possible terms to the public, but we state of health. None but the strong, health. and use his influence for its perpetuation in such manner as will give its use on the best possible terms to the public, but we are confident it must be closed under its present constitution.

Let every stockholder be present or forever after hold his peace. But for the honor and credit of our city let us maintain in some shape a library—one that it will be our pride to enter, and to which will be our pride to enter, and to which we can introduce strangers visiting us.

myself. I will now detail the result of my experiments.

"Dog No. 1—Breed of dog, coach. Age, 1 year. Health, perfect. Food, bread and crackers. Color, spotied black and white. Weight, 35 pounds.

"To this dog, on the morning of the 9th of September, was given eight biscuits at 8,10 o'clock. The biscuits were made by myself as follows: One quart lifted flour, 20 teaspoons alum baking powder, 2 cups water, 1 tablespoon butter, 22 biscuits made, weighing 27 ounces; time of baking, 20 minutes.

"At 11:30, just three hours and twenty minutes, the dog was taken very sick, vomiting profusely; his vin and brightness of eye had departed, and he trembled considerably in his llmbs."

Experiments were then made upon three had departed, and he trembled considerably in his limbs."

Experiments were then made upon three dogs with biscuits containing only 10 teaspoons of ainm baking powder. The result indicated that some animas are more liable to yield to the effects of poisomous substances than others are. When, on the other hand, three other dogs were fed with biscuits made with pure cream of tartar baking powder, no lit effects were experienced. They are and ate with an evident reliah, day after day, and even whined for more.

It was next necessary to discover what effect alum has on the solvent power of the gastric juice. In order to obtain some pure gastric juice, a curious device was resorted to. Dr. Mott sent several dogs to Prof. Arwold, Medical Department of the University of New York, who inserted a small metalic tube directly through the skin and into the stomach of each one of them, when the dogs were in a perfectly healthy condition. Prof.

stomach of each one of them, when the do-were in a perfectly healthy condition. Pro Arnold sent to Dr. Mott some gastric juc-which was produced by lickling the lining the stomach of the dogs with a feather or gra-rod, which caused the gastric juice to flo-out of the tub; into a receptacle placed up

The fibrine was imperfectly digested, and the experiments were very important, as showing that alum can obeck the digestion of so easily digested a substance as fibrine. They indicate therefore, how dangerous it is to introduce these two salls into our stomachs, if we do not wish to excite indigestion and dyspepsia. Further experiments showed that the digestive power of the gastre juice is entirely destroyed by alum, so far as its power of dissolving the more indigestible substances, like the bolied white of an egg, is concerned. Dr. Mott then determined to learn whether alumina could be found in the various organs

Dr. Mott then determined to learn whether talumina could be found in the various organs of the body if a dog was fed with hydrate of atomina. He found a considerable quantity of the stuff in the blood, liver, kidneys and heart.

The Doctor goes on to describe the different symptoms exhibited by these dogs as they passed through almost every phase of animal agony until they were left in a complete state of physical prostration. To those especially interested in the details of this subject the article in the Scientific American subplement will give most complete information, and we will spare the sympathetic reader the account of the sufferings of these dumb brutes.

Dr. Mott's conclusions, after making these experiments, are of vital interest to every one who either makes or east breadt, and therefore, cquear all.

"These experiments," said he recently, if while speaking before the American Chemical Society, "clearly demonstrate that the saits left in the blergly wis a consensual.

"These experiments," said he recently, while speaking before the American Chemical Scolety, "clearly demonstrate that the saits left in the biscult when a cream of tartar baking powder in used, ore perfectly harmless, but when an alum baking powder is used are very dangerous, for in every case where dogs were fed on biscults made with such powders the dogs were made very alck, causing them to vomit profusely, lose all energy, and show weakness in their limbs."

It is a clear and trumphant corroboration of the assertions of the Koyal Baking Powder Company, and entitles them to the gnititude and support of the community they are endeavoring to protect. As they claim, and Dr. Mott has shown, bread made of alum is totally unfit for human or animal food. "Tis true, in the bread of domestic consumption there may not be as large a proportion of baking powders as was in the bread used by Dr. Mott, and that accounts for the fact that the symptoms in the reader are not so well defined as they were in the experiments in question. How many there are of our immediate friends suffering from this evil, action-time the definition of the contraction will alone reveal; but many a lingering and suffering invalid, with no defined deep of the total contraction investigation will alone reveal; but many a lingering and suffering invalid, with no defined deep a substituting some brand like the Koyal ders, substituting some brand like the Koyal ders, substituting some brand like the Koyal fined idea of his trouble, can easily trace it to its source by stopping the use of a lum powders, substituting some brand like the Koyal Baking Powder, whose manufacturers have a competent chemist in their exclusive employ, who rigidly analyzes every ingredient before its incorporation into their powder. The old cry of "honesty being the best policy" may be worn threadbare, but its trath will hold forever, and while adult "rations and short weights abound, it is a pleasure to see at least one in the trade strenuously endeavoring to give full weights and pure goods.
